v4.16 Release Postponed

The DataDirector team has an ongoing commitment to provide your customers the highest quality DataDirector experience. In preparation for tonight's release, an issue with online testing was identified. Although the issue was corrected, the timing of our QA team from completing testing of the maintenance items in this release against the online testing module of DataDirector is not ideal.

As a result, to ensure that the highest standards of quality for your DataDirector experience, tonight's release has been postponed to Friday, November 9th, 2012.
